Spring in Oklahoma can elicit thoughts of redbud trees, tulips, weeds and even inclement weather. While many of us lost trees and shrubbery during the ice storm last fall, landscape professional, Davey, of Proven Solutions for a Growing World, advises, “odd’s are, an evergreen shrub that has winter burn will bounce back. Even though brown chunks might make the plant look dead, your shrub will more than likely sprout new needles.”

“To be sure, prick a small area of an affected branch with your fingernail or a pocket knife. It should be green and moist underneath. Any branches that are still green under the bark are alive and can grow new needles. If any branches are brown and dry underneath, you should prune those out.”

Weeds and hay fever are alive and thriving! If you’re vying for Yard of the Month, TLC advises, “begin fertilizing in spring for a healthy lawn this year. First application should be in early April for Central Oklahoma. Repeat every 4-8 weeks during the growing season. The growing season for Bermuda lawns is April thru August, while for fescue lawns it is March thru May and September thru October. Do not fertilize fescue lawns during the hot months of June thru August.”

Oklahoma is known for quick change of weather, spring can be especially challenging. It’s imperative to have safe shelter or go-to shelter for our families. Make a plan. Follow your neighbors on our community Facebook page Danforth Farms West-Edmond OK, and share. We’re here together!
